12 REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION
13 RE: APPLICATION FOR: (1) MOTION
TO STRIKE; (2) DEFAULT
JUDGMENT; (3) ORDER DIRECTING
THE U.S. MARSHAL TO CONDUCT
ADMIRALTY EXECUTION SALE AT WHICH PLAINTIFF IS AUTHORIZED TO ISSUE CREDIT BID

14 Regarding Docket Nos. 37, 38

16 Now before the Court for consideration is a Motion for Default Judgment brought by 17 Plaintiff San Mateo County Harbor District (hereinafter “Harbor District”) against Defendant M/V
18 Spirit of Sacramento (“Vessel”). Concurrently, Plaintiff moves to strike the verified statement of 19 interest of Brian Gerhart filed in response to the prior arrest of the Vessel.
20

21 These unopposed motions were referred to the undersigned magistrate judge for a report 22 and recommendation. (Dkt. No. 46.) Having considered Harbor District’s papers, relevant legal 23 authority and record in this case, the Court RECOMMENDS that Harbor District’s Motion to 24 Strike Gerhart’s Statement of Interest be GRANTED, that Harbor District’s Motion for Default
25 Judgment be GRANTED, and that the District Court issue an order directing the U.S. Marshal to 26 conduct an execution sale at which Harbor District would be authorized to issue a credit bid.

BACKGROUND

2 Harbor District is a governmental entity formed under the laws of the County of San
3 Mateo, State of California. (Dkt. No. 1 (Compl.), ¶ 4.) Harbor District operates the Oyster Point
4 Marina in South San Francisco, located within the Northern District of California. (Id., ¶¶ 3, 4.)
5 On April 29, 2015, Harbor District brought this in rem action for breach of a lease agreement and 6 for enforcement of a statutory maritime lien pursuant to the Federal Maritime Lien Act (“FMLA”),
7 46 U.S.C. § 31342, and seeks a judgment condemning the Vessel and an order for its sale to pay
8 outstanding accrued debts. (See Compl.)

9 The Vessel is an 84.6 foot steel paddle wheeler of United States Registry, official number
10 510560, owned and operated by Sacramento Yacht Charters LLC, a suspended California limited
11 liability company (“SYC”). (Id., ¶ 5.) John Morgan Stahl, Jr. (“Stahl”) was the owner’s
12 appointed manager and operator of the Vessel. (Id.)

13 On October 23, 2013, Stahl, on behalf SYC, and Harbor District entered into a Berth
14 Rental Agreement (“Agreement”). (Id., ¶ 6.) The Agreement provided for an initial rental rate of 15 $785.00 per month,¹ which Stahl paid for two months, through December 2013. (Id., ¶ 9.) No
16 further rental payments were made towards the rental of the berth.² (Id.)

17 In late December 2013, the Vessel was temporarily moved to the guest dock for a New 18 Year’s Eve party and was not returned to its berth. (Cooper Decl., ¶ 4.) The Vessel was charged a 19 short-term transient rental fee of the guest dock at $79.20/day from January 2 – January 18, 2014, 20 for a total of $1,346.40, in addition to its rental fee and late charges on the berth that it was 21 simultaneously renting. (Id.) Harbor District moved the Vessel back to its berth as it appeared
22 that it had been abandoned. (Id.)

23 On January 21, 2014, Harbor District sent a 30-day Notice of Termination by certified mail
24 to Stahl. (Id., ¶ 5.) A lien was then placed on the Vessel, which was charged to the Vessel at 25 $108. (Id., ¶ 6.) After the 30-days expired without response, Stahl was advised by certified mail

26 _____
27 ¹ Stahl listed the vessel’s overall length at 98 feet on the Berth Rental Agreement, based on which the rental fee was established. (Dkt. No. 52 (Cooper Decl.), ¶ 2.)

28 ² On December 30, 2013, Stahl presented a check to Harbor District for $806.92. The check was later returned for insufficient funds and resulted in a charge of $30 for insufficient funds. (Cooper Decl., ¶ 11.)

1 that the tenancy had been terminated as of February 21, 2014 and that the Vessel would incur
2 transient charges.³ (Id., ¶ 7.)

3 On April 29, 2015, Harbor District filed this lawsuit to foreclose on the maritime lien. On 4 May 1, 2015, the Application for Arrest Warrant was granted and issued by the Clerk of the Court.
5 (Dkt. No. 9 (Order Appt. Sub. Cust); Dkt. No. 10 (Order for Arrest Warrant).) On May 21, 2015,
6 the Summons and Complaint were served on Vessel (Dkt. No. 13 (Exec. Return of Summons))
7 and the Vessel was arrested by the U.S. Marshal. (Dkt. No. 19 (Proof of Pub).) The Vessel has 8 since been secured at the Oyster Point Marina under the custody of the Marina's manager, the 9 substitute custodian and agent of Harbor District, at a fee of $100/day. (Dkt. No. 39 (Kelley
10 Decl.) ¶ 3; Cooper Decl., ¶ 10.)

11 On June 3, 2015, copies of the Summons, Verified Complaint and initiating pleadings were 12 mailed to all known parties with an interest in the Vessel, as listed in the Vessel's abstract of title.
13 (Kelley Decl., ¶ 6.) The Notice of Arrest of Vessel was published by Harbor District in The 14 Recorder on June 8, 2015. (Dkt. No. 19 (Proof of Pub. of Notice of Arrest of Vessel).)

15 On June 19, 2015, Brian Gerhart, listed on the Vessel's Abstract of Title as the holder of 16 two liens in the amounts of $86,513.06 and $25,560.00, appeared pro per and filed a verified
17 Statement of Interest in the Vessel. (Dkt. No. 18 (Cert. of Serv).) No other statements of interest 18 are at issue.⁴ Mr. Gerhart has not filed an answer to the Complaint as required by Federal Rules of 19 Civil Procedure, Supplemental Rules for Admiralty or Maritime Claims Rule C and Rule 4-2 of 20 the Northern District of California Local Asset Forfeiture and Admiralty Rules.

21 To date, neither the Vessel nor Gerhart has filed a response to the Verified Complaint. The 22 responses were due June 11, 2015 and July 11, 2015, respectively. The Clerk entered default on 23 July 22, 2015 as to the Vessel and all non-appearing defendants. (Dkt No. 30, Not. of Def.)

24 _____
25 ³ Stahl was advised that the Vessel would incur short-term transient charges of $79.20 per 26 day, but that sum was later retroactively modified to the long-term transient rate of $59.40 per day.
(Id., ¶ 7.)

27 Gerhart's statement of interest was submitted on behalf of himself, individually, and on 28 behalf of Gamerica, a Nevada corporation, of which Gerhart claimed to be vice president. Given that Gerhart is not a licensed attorney and therefore cannot represent the interests of Gamerica, the Court granted Plaintiff's Motion to Strike Gamerica's statement of interest. (Dkt No. 35, minute entry before Hon. James Donato, Aug. 20, 2015.)

1 Harbor District filed a Motion for Default Judgment against the Vessel and a Motion to Strike
2 Gerhart's Statement of Interest on August 31, 2015. (Dkt. Nos. 37, 38.) Oppositions to both
3 motions were due by September 14, 2015. Neither the Vessel nor Gerhart filed any opposition.

4 Harbor District seeks to foreclose on its lien to recoup the sums incurred as a result of the 5 Vessel's failure to pay for the rental of its berth, "necessaries," and custodial legis expenses.
6 Harbor District provides the declaration of the administrative assistant of Harbor District
7 responsible for collections and billing activity for the Oyster Point Harbor, describing the nature of 8 charges and costs incurred by Harbor District for the Vessel. (See Cooper Decl.) Harbor District
9 requests that the Court issue an order directing the United States Marshal to conduct an admiralty
10 execution sale, at which Harbor District would be authorized to issue a credit bid.

ANALYSIS

A. Jurisdiction.

This is an admiralty action in rem to foreclose a maritime lien under 46 U.S.C. §§ 31301(4)-(5), 31341-31343 of the Commercial Instruments and Maritime Lien Act, referred to as the Federal Maritime Lien Act ("FMLA"). The Court has jurisdiction over this matter under 28 U.S.C. §1333, which vests district courts with original jurisdiction in "any civil case of admiralty or maritime jurisdiction...." 28 U.S.C. § 1333(1). An in rem action may be brought to enforce any maritime lien, or whenever a statute of the United States provides for a maritime action to be brought in rem. Fed. R. Civ. P. Supp. C (1). Here, Harbor District seeks to enforce a maritime lien under the FMLA, 46 U.S.C. § 31342. Accordingly, the Court has subject matter jurisdiction over the action. See Ventura Packers, Inc. v. F/V Jeanine Kathleen, 305 F.3d 913, 918-923 (9th Cir. 2002) (holding that the FMLA provides a statutory basis for the exercise of a district court's admiralty jurisdiction). The Court has in rem jurisdiction over the Vessel because it is located in the Northern District of California. (Dkt. No. 1, ¶ 5.) The Vessel was "arrested pursuant to maritime process," and "the warrant w[as] successfully served." Id. at 585; accord Fed. R. Civ. P. Supp. C (2)-(3). (See Exec. Return of Summons.)

1 B. Harbor District Fulfilled the Notice Requirements and the Requirements for Entry of Default.

2 According to Local Admiralty Rules, the “party seeking a default judgment in an action in rem must show that due notice of the action and arrest of the property” were provided as follows:

4 i. By publication as required in Fed. R. Civ. P. Supp. C(4);
5 ii. By service upon the master or other person having custody of the property; and 6 iii. By service under Fed. R. Civ. P. 5(b) upon every other person who has not appeared in the action and is known to have an interest in the property.

7 N. D. Cal. Admir. L.R. 6-1(a)(2). The moving party must also provide notice to those with 8 recorded interests in the applicable governmental registry, as provided in Local Admiralty Rule 6-9 1(b).

10 The publication requirement found in Supplemental Rule C(4) mandates that a moving 11 party “give public notice of the action and arrest [of the vessel] in a newspaper designated by court
12 order and having general circulation in the district The notice must specify the time under 13 Rule C(6) to file a statement of interest in or right against the seized property and to answer.” Fed.
14 R. Civ. P. Supp. C(4); N.D. Cal. Admiralty L.R. 4-2(a) (providing further details needed in 15 publication notice); N.D. Cal. Civil L.R. 77-4(b) (listing appropriate newspapers for publication 16 notice). The Court finds that the Proof of Publication of Notice of Arrest of Vessel specifying that 17 the notice was posted in The Recorder on June 8, 2015 (Dkt. No. 19), complies with Supplemental 18 Rule C(4) and Local Admiralty Rule 6-1(a)(2)(i).

19 The Court also finds that Local Admiralty Rule 6-1(a)(2)(ii) is satisfied given that Harbor
20 District is the court-appointed custodian of the Vessel. Harbor District also provided notice to all 21 parties with claims and potential claims to the Vessel, as ascertained by the Vessel’s abstract of 22 title obtained from the U.S. Coast Guard’s National Vessel Documentation Center. (Dkt. No. 39, 23 ¶¶ 5, 6) Also, Harbor District served notice upon the agent for service of process of the Vessel’s
24 owner. (Dkt. No. 20.) Notice included the statutory language required by Supplemental Rule C 25 (6) - namely, that any person or entity who claims a possessory right or ownership interest in the 26 Vessel file a verified statement of interest with the Clerk of the Court within 14 days, and that 27 within 21 days from filing, that the claimant file and serve an answer to the Complaint. (Id.)

1 Therefore, the Court finds that proper service was made in compliance with Local Admiralty Rule
2 6-1(a)(2)(iii), as well as 6-1(b).

3 Harbor District must also meet the requirements of entry of default. Local Admiralty Rule
4 6-2 (b) allows for entry of default and application for default judgment under Federal Rule of Civil 5 Procedure 55, where: (1) notice has been given as required by Rule 6-1(a)(2) and (b)(2); (2) the 6 time to answer has expired; and (3) no one has filed a verified statement of right or possession or 7 ownership interest in the property.

8 As noted above, Harbor District provided notice in accordance with Local Admiralty Rule 9 6-1(a)(2) and (b)(2), and the time for the Vessel to answer expired on June 11, 2015. Default was 10 entered on July 22, 2015 against Vessel. (Dkt. No. 30.) With regard to the third factor, Gerhart
11 filed a statement of interest, but he did not file an answer to the Complaint. Therefore, Harbor
12 District brings a Motion to Strike Gerhart's verified statement of interest in the Vessel. As set
13 forth below, the Court RECOMMENDS that the District Court GRANT Harbor District's Motion
14 to Strike the Statement of Interest, bringing Harbor District in compliance with Rule 6-2(b).

15 C. Motion to Strike the Statement of Interest.

16 According to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Supplemental Rule C(6)(a), a person who 17 asserts an interest in the property in rem, must file a verified statement of interest within 14 days
18 after the execution of process and "must serve an answer within 21 days after filing the statement
19 of interest or right." Fed. R. Civ. P. Supp. C(6)(a)(iv). While Gerhart timely filed a verified
20 statement of interest, he did not file an answer.⁵

21 Harbor District moves to strike Gerhart's statement of interest on the grounds that Gerhart
22 failed to comply with the requirements of Supplemental Rule C(6) and therefore failed to perfect
23 his interest in the Vessel as required by Supplemental Rule C(6)(a)(iv). "[C]ircuit courts 24 consistently have held claimants to strict compliance with the provisions of Rule C(6). The

25 _____
26 ⁵ In fact, Gerhart has not taken action in response to any pleading for which he has 27 received notice since filing a statement of interest, including the present Motion to Strike (Dkt.
28 No. 37), Motion for Default Judgment (Dkt. No. 38), Plaintiff's Request for Entry of Default of Gerhart and Gamerica, Inc. (Dkt. No. 24), and Plaintiff's Motion to Strike the Statement of Interest of Gamerica, Inc. (Dkt. No. 26).

1 purpose behind Rule C(6)...is ‘to inform the court that there is a claimant to the property who
2 wants it back and intends to defend it.’” United States v. Real Property, 135 F.3d 1312, 1317 (9th
3 Cir. 1998) (citing United States v. Beechcraft Queen Airplane, 789 F.2d 627, 629 (8th Cir. 1986)).
4 Gerhart’s failure to file an answer appears to signify that he neither desires nor intends to defend 5 his interest in the Vessel.

6 The purpose behind Rule C(6) “would be ill-served if any person with an ownership
7 interest in a property were absolved of complying with the applicable filing requirements and were 8 empowered to challenge a forfeiture judgment long after judgment had been entered.” Real
9 Property, 135 F.3d at 1317. Delaying judgment on account of Gerhart’s failure would be contrary
10 to the purpose of Supplement Rule C and the policy for resolution of disputes and finality of 11 judgments.

12 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(f) allows a court on its own or pursuant to motion, to 13 “strike from a pleading any insufficient defense or any redundant, immaterial, impertinent or 14 scandalous matter.”⁶ The function of a Rule 12(f) motion to strike is to avoid the waste of time 15 and money spent on litigating spurious issues by dispensing with those issues prior to trial.
16 Whittlestone, Inc. v. Handi-Craft Co., 618 F.3d 970, 973 (9th Cir. 2010) (quoting Fantasy, Inc. v.
17 Fogerty, 984 F.2d 1524, 1527 (9th Cir. 1993) (rev’d on other grounds)). A matter is immaterial if 18 it has “no essential or important relationship to the claim for relief or defenses being pleaded.”
19 Fantasy, Inc., 984 F.2d at 1527. A matter is impertinent if it “does not pertain, and [is] not 20 necessary, to the issues in question. Id. In absence of an answer, Gerhart’s statement of interest is 21 both immaterial and impertinent to the resolution of the present matter. Therefore, this Court
22 RECOMMENDS that the District Court GRANT Harbor District’s Motion to Strike.

25 _____
26 ⁶ Supplemental Rule G, regarding forfeiture actions in rem, which otherwise mirrors the 27 provisions of Rule C, specifically provides a separate basis for the government to move to strike a 28 claim for failure to abide by Rule G(5) regarding the filing of claims and response thereto. Fed. R.
Civ. P. Supp. R. G(8)(c). Rule C does not provide its own basis to strike.

1 D. The Eitel Factors Support Entering Default Judgment.

2 Under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 55(b), a plaintiff may apply for a default judgment
3 against a defendant who has failed to plead or otherwise defend an action. Draper v. Coombs, 792
4 F.2d 915, 925 (9th Cir. 1986). A plaintiff may move for a default judgment pursuant to Federal 5 Rule of Civil Procedure 55(b) after default is entered. N.D. Cal. Admiralty L.R. 6-2. Here,
6 default was entered by the Clerk on July 22, 2015. (Dkt. No. 30.) However, a defendant's default
7 "does not automatically entitle the plaintiff to a court-ordered judgment." Draper, 792 F.2d at 8 924-925. Generally, "[t]he district court's decision whether to enter default judgment is a 9 discretionary one." Pepsico, Inc. v. Cal. Sec. Cans, 238 F. Supp.2d 1172, 1175 (C.D. Cal. 2002).

10 In determining whether default judgment is appropriate, the Ninth Circuit has enumerated 11 the following factors for the courts to consider:

12 (1) the possibility of prejudice to the plaintiff, (2) the merits of 13 plaintiff's substantive claim, (3) the sufficiency of the complaint, (4) 14 the sum of money at stake in the action, (5) the possibility of a dispute concerning material facts, (6) whether the default was due to excusable neglect, and (7) the strong policy underlying Federal Rules of Civil Procedure favoring decisions on the merits.

15 Eitel v. McCool, 782 F2d 1470, 1471-1472 (9th Cir. 1986).

16 1. Possibility of Prejudice to Harbor District.

17 The first Eitel factor considers whether Harbor District would be prejudiced if default
18 judgment is not entered. Harbor District has provided a berth and necessities to the Vessel 19 without recouping its expense. Harbor District has also incurred expenses while the Vessel has 20 been in custodia legis. If the Court denies Harbor District's Motion, Harbor District will be 21 unable to recover the expenses incurred. Therefore, the possibility of prejudice favors entry of 22 default judgment.

23 2. Merits of Substantive Claim and Sufficiency of Complaint.

24 The second and third Eitel factors consider the merits of Harbor District's substantive
25 claim and the sufficiency of the Complaint. After entry of default, well-pleaded factual allegations
26 in the complaint regarding liability are taken as true, except as to damages. Fair Hous. of Marin v.
27 Combs, 285 F.3d 899, 906. (9th Cir. 2002); TeleVideo Systems, Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915,

1 917-18 (9th Cir. 1987) (citing Geddes v. United Fin. Grp., 559 F. 2d 557, 560 (9th Cir. 1977)).⁷

2 Harbor District seeks to foreclose a maritime lien against the Vessel under 46 U.S.C. §
3 31342 based on unpaid fees for berthing and related costs. Section 31342 provides, in relevant 4 part:

5 (a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, a person providing necessities to a 6 vessel on the order of the owner or a person authorized by the owner –
7 (1) has a maritime lien on the vessel;
8 (2) may bring a civil action in rem to enforce the lien; and 9 (3) is not required to allege or prove in the action that credit was given to the vessel.
10 (b) This section does not apply to a public vessel.

11 46 U.S.C. § 31342.

12 In order to establish a maritime lien for necessities, a supplier must show: (1) that the 13 goods or services were provided to the vessel; (2) that the goods or services were “necessaries”;
14 (3) that the charges were reasonable in amount; and (4) that they were ordered by someone with 15 the appropriate authority. Belcher Co. of Ala. V. M/V Martha Mariner, 724 F.2d 1161, 1164 (5th 16 Cir. 1984); see also International Seafoods of Alaska, Inc. v. Park Ventures, Inc., 829 F.2d 751, 17 753 (9th Cir 1987); Farwest Steel Corp v. Barge Sea Span 241, 769 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1985).

18 “Necessaries” include “repairs, supplies, towage, and use of a dry dock or marine railway.”
19 46 U.S.C. § 31301(4). “The list is not exhaustive, and in fact, modern admiralty jurisprudence 20 interprets ‘necessaries’ broadly, as anything that facilitates or enables a vessel to perform its 21 mission or occupation.” Ventura Packers, 305 F.3d at 923. “The term ‘necessaries’ includes most 22 goods or services that are useful to the vessel to keep her out of danger.” Id.

23 Here, the Court finds that Harbor District made an adequate showing to establish a 24 maritime lien under section 31342. Harbor District has sufficiently alleged and provided adequate 25 documentation to support that the Vessel incurred: $1,335.18 in berth rental fees; $1,346.40 in 26

27 ⁷ “However, a defendant is not held to admit facts that are not well-pleaded or to admit 28 conclusions of law.” DIRECTV, Inc. v. Hoa Huynh, 503 F.3d 847, 854 (9th Cir. 2007) (citation omitted). While the declaration of former Harbor Master Scott Grundy submitted in support of the motion (Dkt. No. 41) contained conclusory statements lacking the necessary factual support for some of the Harbor District’s allegations of damages, the supplemental declaration of Ms.
Cooper is adequately detailed and supports the allegations as well as the damages claims. (See Dkt. No. 52.)

1 short-term transient fees for the guest dock from the owner's use for a holiday party, where the 2 Vessel was subsequently abandoned; $54.45 in electricity consumed by the Vessel; long-term
3 transient charges of $26,551.80 incurred after the rental agreement was terminated; and late fees in 4 the sum of $2,048.94. (Compl., ¶¶7, 11; Cooper Decl., ¶¶ 2-16.) The Complaint is verified
5 pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. Supp. Rule C(2) and the Cooper Declaration and its attached exhibits
6 sufficiently establish the incurred charges of $31,336.77.

7 Second, the Court agrees that these services were "necessaries" under Section 31301(4).
8 See Crescent City Harbor Dist v. M/V Intrepid, 2008 WL 5211023, at *3 (finding that wharfage is 9 considered a necessary under maritime law); Canton Port Servs. V. M/V Snow Bird 690 F.
10 Supp.2d 405, 408 (D. Md. 2010) (finding that docking services were necessities); Am. E. Dev.
11 Corp. v. Everglades Marina, Inc., 608 F.2d 123, 125 (5th Cir 1979) (recognizing that "[s]everal 12 courts have imposed maritime liens for docking, wharfage, or storage fees . . .").

13 Third, the Oyster Point Marina charges are reasonable and are of the type that can be 14 expected by a harbor providing berthing to a vessel over an extended period. See Crescent City,
15 WL 5211023, at *3. Fourth, Stahl procured the berthing for the Vessel. (Compl., ¶6) Under 46
16 U.S.C. § 31331(a)(1), as SYC's representative, Stahl is presumed to have authority to procure the 17 necessities for it. In sum, the Court finds that Harbor District has sufficiently established the 18 existence of a maritime lien under Section 31342 and that the second and third Eitel factors are 19 met.

20 3. Amount of Money at Stake.

21 When the money at stake in the litigation is substantial or unreasonable, default judgment 22 is discouraged. Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1472 (three-million dollar judgment considered in light of 23 parties dispute as to material facts, supported decision not to enter default judgment); Tragni v.
24 Southern Elec. Inc., No. 09-32 JF, 2009 WL 3052635, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 22, 2009); RBS
25 Washington, 2010 WL 145097, at *3 (citing Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1472.) Here, Harbor District seeks 26 damages of $31,336.77 for almost six months of rental fees, short-term transient fees, long-term
27 transient fees, and metered electricity for the Vessel. In addition, Harbor District seeks court-
28 approved custodial fees incurred while the Vessel has been in custodia legis at the expense of

1 $100 per day. Because the sums of money at stake cover the care of the Vessel for almost a year,
2 the Court finds the sums requested are reasonable and that this Eitel factor weighs in favor of
3 default judgment.

4 4. Possibility of a Material Factual Dispute.

5 The fifth Eitel factor examines the likelihood of dispute between the parties regarding the 6 material facts surrounding the case. Here, the issue is straightforward. Harbor District seeks to 7 recover expenses that are largely based on agreed upon rental rates, posted transient fees, and 8 court-approved custodial fees. Copies of the termination and arrest of the Vessel were sent to 9 SYC's representative, Stahl. (Cooper Decl., ¶ 7.) The Complaint was personally served on its 10 registered agent for service of process (Dkt. No. 20, (Proof of Service).) and notification of the 11 arrest of the Vessel was published in compliance with Fed. R. Civ. P. Supp. Rule C(4) and Local 12 Admiralty Rule 6-1(a)(2)(i). (Dkt. No. 19, (Proof of Publication).) Yet, SYC failed to appear and 13 contest the allegations. Given that there is no indication that there might be a disputed issue of 14 material fact, this factor weights in favor of default judgment.

15 5. Whether Default was the Result of Excusable Neglect.

16 The sixth Eitel factor examines whether any interested party's failure to respond to the 17 plaintiff's allegations was the result of excusable neglect. There is no indication that failure to 18 participate in this proceeding is due to excusable neglect. Shanghai Automation Instrument Co. v.
19 Kuei, 194 F. Supp. 2d 995, 1005 (N.D. Cal. 2001) (default after proper service is not excusable 20 neglect). As previously noted, there were several opportunities for the interested parties to 21 respond, but they chose not to. Accordingly, this factor weighs in favor of granting default 22 judgment.

23 6. Strong Policy Favoring Decisions on the Merits.

24 The final Eitel factor examines whether the policy of deciding a case based on the merits
25 precludes entry of default judgment. In Eitel, the Ninth Circuit cautioned that "[c]ases should be 26 decided upon their merits whenever reasonably possible." Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1472. However, this 27 policy is not dispositive. Rather, the court still has great latitude in exercising its discretion with 28 regard to the relative weight of the remaining Eitel factors. Pepsico, 238 F. Supp. 2d at 1177.

1 Despite the policy of favoring decisions on the merits, default judgment is appropriate when a
2 defendant refuses to litigate a case. Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b); see RBS Washington, 2010 WL 145097,
3 at *4. Therefore, default judgment is appropriate in the present circumstances.

4 Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that all but one of the Eitel factors weighs in favor
5 of granting a default judgment. Therefore, the Court RECOMMENDS that the District Court
6 grant Harbor District's Motion for Default Judgment against the Vessel.

7 E. RELIEF SOUGHT.

8 In addition to an order striking Gerhart's Statement of Interest, Harbor District requests
9 that judgment be entered on its behalf and for: (1) damages for necessaries (Cooper Decl., ¶ 15);
10 (2) custodia legis expenses of $100/day, the rate previously approved by the Court, as well as fees
11 related to the preservation of the Vessel (Cooper Decl., ¶ 10.); and (3) an order compelling the 12 U.S. Marshal to sell the Vessel to pay the amount of the default, free of all mortgages, liens and 13 other encumbrances pursuant to Supplemental Rule E(9) and Local Admiralty Rule 9-2, according 14 to the terms set forth in Harbor District's proposed order. (Compl. 4:19-22).

15 The Court finds that damages for necessaries in the sum of $31,336.77 and in custodia
16 legis expenses are sufficiently documented and appropriate for entry of default judgment.
17 Therefore, the Court RECOMMENDS that the District Court award Harbor District $31,336.77 in 18 damages and an amount in custodia legis expenses to be substantiated after the sale.

19 The Court also finds that ordering the U.S. Marshal to sell the Vessel at a public auction is 20 an appropriate way for Harbor District to foreclose on the lien. Harbor District asks the Court to 21 issue an order for execution sale of the Vessel. Harbor District also requests that it be permitted to 22 issue a credit bid for the Vessel at the sale for any and all accounts up to the amount of the 23 damages, including custodia legis expenses. Admiralty Local Rules 9-2(b) provides that "a 24 plaintiff or intervening plaintiff foreclosing a properly recorded preferred mortgage on, or other 25 valid security interest in the vessel may bid, without payment of cash, certified check or cashier's 26 check up to the total amount of the secured indebtedness as established by affidavit filed and 27 served by that party on all other parties no later than 14 days prior to the date of sale." Admir.
28 L.R. 9-2(b). Accordingly, the Court RECOMMENDS the District Court issue an Order permitting

1 Harbor District to credit bid at public auction so long as it complies with the provisions of Admir.
2 L.R. 9-2(b).

3 CONCLUSION

4 Based on the foregoing, the Court RECOMMENDS that the District Court GRANT Harbor
5 District's Motion to Strike Brian Gerhart's Statement of Interest. The Court further 6 RECOMMENDS that the District Court GRANT Harbor District's Motion for Default Judgment and 7 enter default judgment against the M/V Spirit of Sacramento, her masts, sails, engine and 8 appurtenances, in the amount of $31,366.77 and custodia legis expenses (pursuant to a bill of costs 9 to be filed post-judgment), and allow Harbor District to recover the amount of its judgment from the 10 foreclosure of its maritime lien against the Vessel. The Court also RECOMMENDS that the District
11 Court issue an Order for the final sale and that the Harbor District be permitted to issue a credit bid 12 in compliance with Admiralty Local Rule 9-2.
